

Bio

Corey Blakeslee was raised in Visalia, CA, and moved to Bay Area to pursue his career in voiceover acting and theatre. Corey has been acting since he was a young child in church plays and continued throughout his High School years.

Taking theatre and Performing Arts. Corey has a degree in Theatrical from SJCC. Where he also took part in many theatrical plays. He realized the love he had in making people laugh with his many characters' personalities and is currently continuing to do so in short films, commercials and most recently his role in an upcoming feature film entitled?

Pyschopomp?

